LOCATION

Priestly Court is situated on the Staffordshire Technology Park at Beaconside approximately one mile north-east from the town centre and linked to Junction 14 of the M6 Motorway about three miles distant via the A513 Eastern Distributor Road. Stafford also benefits from its rail connections to intercity services throughout the national network.

The Staffordshire Technology Park is the town's principal office development and is home to many major occupiers including the Staffordshire Football Association, Amey, Nestor Primecare, British Red Cross, Defra, the National Probation Service and NFU Mutual Assurance.

DESCRIPTION

Priestly Court is a group of nine prestige office buildings arranged around extensive car parking and landscaped areas.

Opus House is located at the southern end of the development and is of two-storey detached brick construction with a roof in tile and prominently fronts Dyson Way, the main estate road.

Access is by way of a shared entrance lobby leading to ground and first floor suites with fitted features including suspended ceilings with recessed Category II compliant lighting, full access raised floors, carpeting and blinds.

The upper floor is occupied by the owner with one of two ground floor suites due to come available and offering a prospective tenant an ideal opportunity to acquire high quality space in an attractive office park setting with excellent communications links.
